As unionists we aim to achieve mutual respect, cooperation and understanding throughout our membership. We neither condone nor tolerate behavior that undermines the dignity or self-esteem of any individual or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment.

A hostile or offensive environment includes discriminatory speech or conduct, which is racist, sexist, transphobic or homophobic and/or discrimination based on (in)ability, age, class, religion, language and ethnic origin. A hostile and intimidating environment also includes attempts to de-voice other members by ignoring GMM speaking practices or by talking over, yelling, rolling eyes at or shutting down contributions made by others.

Sometimes discrimination takes the form of harassment. Harassment means using real or perceived power to abuse, devalue or humiliate others. Harassment will not be perceived or treated as frivolous behavior. The uneasiness and resentment that harassment creates hinder the growth of the union by hampering our capacity to work together on shared concerns such as decent wages, safe working conditions and justice in the workplace, society and in our union.

The above-mentioned components of a hostile environment hurt and divide the union and compromise CUPE's policies and commitments to equality. Members, staff and elected officers must be mindful that all persons deserve dignity, equality and respect.

APPENDIX B: CUPE NATIONAL EQUALITY STATEMENT

Union solidarity is based on the principle that union members are equal and deserve mutual respect at all levels. Any behaviour that creates conflict prevents us from working together to strengthen our union.

As unionists, mutual respect, cooperation, and understanding are our goals. We should neither condone nor tolerate behaviour that undermines the dignity or self-esteem of any individual or creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive environment.

Discriminatory speech or conduct which is racist, sexist, transphobic, or homophobic hurts and thereby divides us. So too does discrimination on the basis of ability, age, class, religion and ethnic origin.

Sometimes discrimination takes the form of harassment. Harassment means using real or perceived power to abuse, devalue, or humiliate. Harassment should not be treated as a joke. The uneasiness and resentment that it creates are not feelings that help us grow as a union.

Discrimination and harassment focus on characteristics that make us different; and they reduce our capacity to work together on shared concerns such as decent wages, safe working conditions, and justice in the workplace, society, and in our union.

CUPE's policies and practices must reflect our commitment to equality. Members, staff, and elected officers must be mindful that all persons deserve dignity, equality, and respect.

For the purposes of these by-laws, the term “Equity Seeking Groups” includes, but is not limited to, people discriminated against on the basis of age; race; creed; colour; place of origin; ethnic origin; citizenship; immigration status; ancestry; native language; Indigenous identification (which includes First Nations; Metis; and Inuit and all other Indigenous people whose status and sovereignty rights are not recognized by the Canadian government); religious affiliation; beliefs, or activities; sex; gender; sexual preference or orientation; trans-gender or trans-sexual status or orientation; marital status; family status; class; record or offenses except where it relates to bona-fide qualification because of the nature of employment; Health Status; visible and non-visible disabilities; size or any other feature characteristic or orientation which suffers from social prejudice.

This appendix is intended to acknowledge historical injustices and address intersecting forces of oppression. The use of this appendix to further the social and economic privileges and political representation of dominate groups will not be tolerated, especially at the expense to those who belong to any of the Equity Seeking Groups outlined above.
