

Vice President Internal Report Jan-February

This month, I held my regular office hours as scheduled. I also attended the office several extra times to accommodate members who requested access to the pantry and to process cheques requiring signatures, as I am one of the Local's authorized signatories.

I remain actively engaged with Unit 4 bargaining. I am part of the Unit 4 bargaining team email chain and have attended caucuses and related meetings. In instances where the President has been unavailable, I have ensured continuity by staying up to date on all developments and reviewing the relevant documents thoroughly.

I also attended the first Political Action Committee (PAC) meeting following its revival, which marks an important step in strengthening our Local's advocacy work.

Throughout the month, I attended Executive meetings and responded to ongoing member and union correspondence as required.

Additionally, I am preparing for the upcoming staff contract renewal bargaining process. The initial discussion is scheduled for February. I have begun reviewing the staff bargaining documents, which are extensive and require careful analysis, as I am serving on the bargaining team on behalf of our Local.

In solidarity,
Kusum
